

Annual report of Program for Endangered Species Conservation (PROCER)

15 AÑOS

April 2015

General Overview

- PROCER –
 - PROCER is the federal government instrument for conservation and recover species at risk
 - An example of collaboration for recover species with several stakeholders
 - Use proxy species (priority, surrogate...)
 - Increase effects of management and conservation measures
 - Including management of habitat and invasive species in natural protected areas (NPA)
 - PACE: 40 (December 2014)

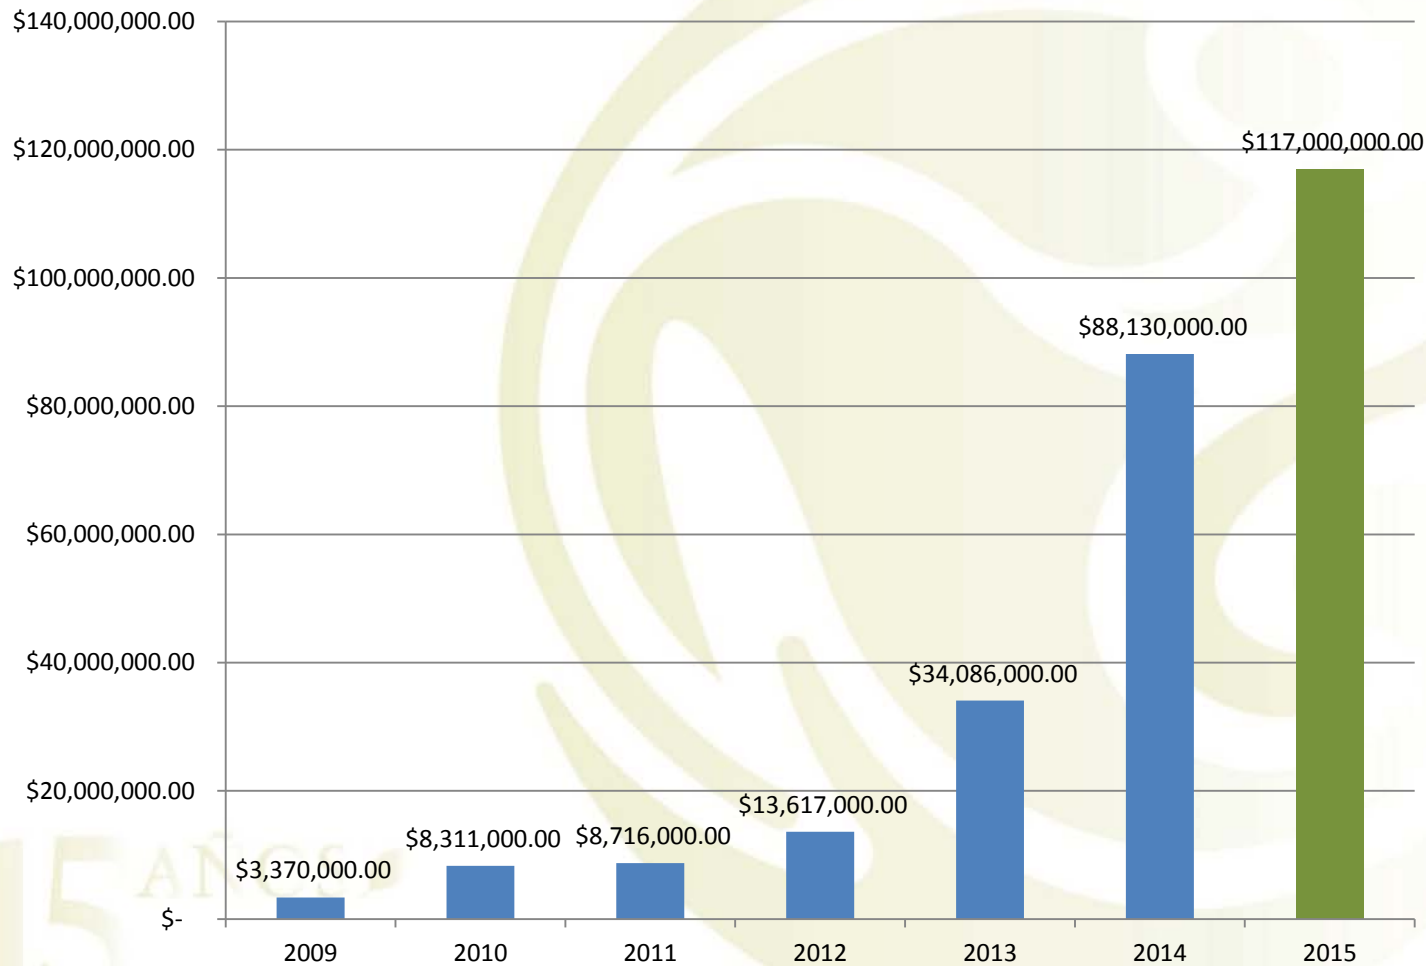

- PROCER

- Federal resources for endangered species
- PROCER work using the installed capacities of CONANP and synergic with NGO, and Universities
- Opportunity of collaboration
 - Federal agencies
 - Research institutions
 - NGOs
 - Landowners
 - International agencies

Carlos Salas

Annual budget

2015.- Authorized budget

Proyectos 2014

- Total projects: 174
- Common concern species:
 - California Condor.
 - Mexican Wolf.- 2 projects
 - Bison
 - Jaguar (several projects)
 - Black Tailed Prairie Dogs (2 projects)
 - Pronghorn (3 Projects: sonorensis, peninsularis, mexicana)
 - Golden Eagle
 - Marine turtles (several Projects)

- Common concern species:

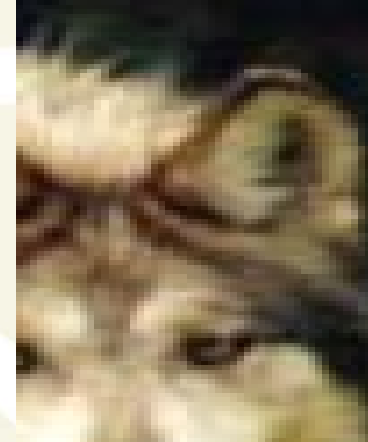

- Great White Shark
- Whales (jorobada, rorcual común, azul)
- Bats
- Aplomado falcon
- Grasslands conservation (migratory birds)
- Rattle snakes
- Paloma socorro
- Beaver
- Black Footed Ferret
- Thick Billed Parrots
- Black bear

Outcomes

- Continue supporting conservation actions on priority species (Mexican wolf, California condor, etc.).
- Defining strategic issues:
 - Coexistence and priority species collaboration.
 - Exchange experiences, assess and planning using species.
- Identify new opportunities to collaborate in the frame of the Trilateral Committee
 - Letter of intent with NPS and PC for North America bison conservation
 - Pollinators, planning habitat conservation based on priority species.

Gracias/ Thanks / Merci

Oscar Ramírez
oramirez@conanp.gob.mx

Martín Sánchez Vilchis
martin.sanchez@conanp.gob.mx

<http://procer.conanp.gob.mx/>